The Korat cat is not only one of the oldest natural domestic cat breeds; it is also a very unique breed.
One prominent thing about the breed is certainly its appearance. Unlike most cat breeds whose heads are wedge-shaped, that of a Korat cat is heart-shaped.
Indeed, most proud Korat cat owners point out that the Korat is the only cat with three hearts; one visible when the cat is viewed from the front, the other visible when the cat's head is viewed from above and the actual heart inside the cat's body. The other unique thing about Korat cat is its coat. A pure-bred Korat cat has a single coat with short hair that is very easy to groom.
The hair is however unusual.
All pre-bred Korats have hair in the same colour; silver-tipped blue. The Korat also happens to be one of the very few natural cat breeds whose traditional characteristics and behaviour have not been altered in any way through breeding programs. The uniqueness in this breed is one of reasons why many homeowners, families and cat lovers decide to buy the Korat cat. In addition to its uniqueness, the cat also has a very good character and temperament, which makes it one of the best indoor cats anyone can have at home as a pet. It is indeed not surprising that the breed's popularity that has remained low over the years is fast rising right across the world. I happen to have had parents who were very fond of cats, to a point where they kept different cat breeds at any given time. Our home was similar to a cattery. The experience of living with such diverse cat breeds, as I now realize, was very beneficial. Not only did I become fond of cats, I have gone a step further and ventured into breeding and showing cats. Covered in this

Elliott Lang says: I have always been in the company of animals. That is the one thing I am most thankful for. My lovely pets have always been around to provide unconditional affection and love when I needed it the most. My father was instrumental in making me grow fond of animals. He always kept me around animals. My family have always been hands on with the pets in the household. Whether it was bathing, feeding or taking care of these animals, my family ensured that the animals got the best of everything. These animals were the centre of all our activities. There was not a single day that did not begin with a discussion about these pets. What to feed them? How to take care of a cat or dog that is ailing? What is the most nutritious thing to feed them? These were common dinner table conversations while I was growing up. So, needless to say, I have had a lot of practical training with respect to taking care of different breeds of animals. Today, I am in a very privileged place where I can share this information with pet lovers across the globe. I would have never been able to provide you with so much comprehensive information without the knowledge that I gained from my father, my family and of course my beloved cats. fundamentally changed the game of business. Strategic frameworks developed for the analysis of purely domestic business necessarily fall short in the international business context. Managers and business students require alternative approaches to understand and cope with these far-reaching changes. We must learn to think globally in order to succeed. Global Competitive Strategy shows how we can do this by providing a unique set of strategic tools for international business. Such tools include the 'star analysis' that allows strategy makers to integrate geographic information with market information about the global business environment. Also introduced is the 'global value connection' that shows managers how to account for the gains from trade and the costs of trade. Aimed at MBA students taking courses in international strategy, consultants and practising managers with responsibility for strategic development, this 2007 book offers a comprehensive strategic framework for gaining competitive advantage in the global marketplace.
