"Huntley Von Allister's cover is firmly in place. She's brilliantly completed her first four missions. But she is done. Done working for Black X. Done trying to untangle the mystery of what got her mother killed. And very, very done with love.

She's given herself a simple mission--to recover the precious memories of her final days with her mother by visiting the places in the photos left behind. Well, that, and to discover who owns the emerald rings, like the one she found on Dupree. And completely destroy their secret society."--Page [4] of cover.

They've been friends since they were kids and next fall, she'll be joining him at Eastbrooke Academy. He's hinted at their friendship turning into more, but as the holiday season progresses, she's still stuck in the friend zone. His cousin Beckham Johnson, on the other hand, doesn't believe in the friend zone. His cocky

Our lives are like single threads meticulously woven together--the result an exquisite tapestry of past, present, and future. Then there are the words that will unravel me. A few little words that will change my life. As a teen, Cade Crawford crushed on Palmer Montlake. Hard. But Palmer was his best friend's little sister. And she was definitely off-limits. As an adult, he was still in love with her. But he couldn't act on it. Not only because of his best friend, but because he now represented her. He was her talent agent. And Cade didn't mix business with pleasure. But Palmer was always good at breaking the rules. At least, Cade's rules. When they finally got together, Palmer made him promise to keep their relationship a secret. He knew they shouldn't lie to their family and friends, but what could he do? He was in love. Like I want to marry this girl love. But their bliss was short-lived. During a heated argument over her next movie contract, they broke up. Palmer's brother found out. And Cade's face took a beating because of it. Not only did Cade lose the love of his life that day, but he lost his best friend too. And he only had himself to blame. Six years later, they all still hate each other. And Cade has done a good job of avoiding both his hurt feelings and Palmer over the years. Until recently. The universe keeps throwing them together, and Palmer seems to be everywhere. When Cade catches the garter and Palmer catches the bouquet at a wedding, sparks fly between them. Sparks that shouldn't be there but definitely are. Is this Cade and Palmer's second chance at love? Or are they going to repeat the past, leaving them both with broken hearts and a broken love? London Prep, Book #3

I wasn't always in love with Colton Calloway; I was in love with his younger brother, Kyle, first. Kyle was my first one true love, my first in every way. Then, one stormy August night, he died, and the person I was died with him. Colton didn't teach me how to live. He didn't heal the pain. He didn't make it okay. He taught me how to hurt, how to not be okay, and, eventually, how to let go. Nell Hawthorne is in love with her life-long best friend, Kyle Calloway. Things are great, and they're in love, young, full of promise. Then Kyle dies in a tragic accident and Nell is forever changed. She meets Kyle's older brother Colton at the funeral, and there's a spark, but it's wrong and they both know it. The moment passes, and they both move on with life. A couple years later, they meet again in New York City, and Colton realizes that Nell has never really gotten over Kyle's death, and seems to be harboring a deeply rooted pain, something like guilt, perhaps. He knows he shouldn't get involved, but he can't help himself. Trust doesn't come easily for either of them, and they both have demons, Colton especially. Together, they learn the purpose of pain and the meaning of healing, and the importance of forgiveness.

Years ago, Danny and Jennifer met at a party, and their chemistry was off the charts. After a few months of being just friends, he did the right thing--cut off all contact with her to focus on his family. It was the right decision at the time. But they've never forgotten each other. Or the special connection they felt.

Tasked with getting close to the illusive Money Man, she will be forced to delve into a seedy underworld that will threaten her very existence.
